DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

In response to the amendment filed 24 November 2008, the following is placed in effect.

The rejection of claims 1-7 on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-14 of U.S. Patent No. 6,586,531 (Washiyama et al), is hereby expressly withdrawn in view of the acceptable Terminal Disclaimer filed with the Response.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Washiyama et al (US 6,586,531).

The applied reference has a common assignee and inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

The intended use of a masterbatch is with other constituents, including other polymers. The reference shows the masterbatch using crystalline polypropylene of "MFR<sup>I</sup> of from 0.5 to 10 g/10 min," present in an amount that embraces the claimed range at 25% to 75%, with a second polymer faction having MFR<sup>II</sup> embracing that recited herein at 15 to 100 g/10 min, and present in an amount that embraces the claimed range at 25% to 75%. Note the Abstract. The composition is employed to make molded articles. Note column 1 (lines 22 et seq.). Further, note column 6 (lines 26-42), column 7 (line 12) to column 8 (line 3).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 24 November 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

With regard to the rejection of claims 1-7 under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Washiyama et al (US 6,586,531), the ratio of MFR<sup>II</sup>/MFR<sup>I</sup> is anticipatory at 30 to 60. Applicant is reminded that a reference is taken for the entirety of its teachings and not for isolated examples or passages. While applicant points to preferred range for the ratio, the reference teaches the contemplated range. It is noted that the MFR<sup>II</sup> values calculated from Washiyama et al embrace that range recited herein, including 15 to 100 g/10 min..

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
